Oregon Arts Commission: Values Statement

The arts and culture are touchstones of community and civic life and it is essential to preserve, stabilize and develop their central role to benefit Oregonians and Oregon's quality of life. The Oregon Arts Commission believes:

- Art brings people together, strengthening communities.
- Art is critical for our students.
- Art adds value to Oregon's economy.
- Art is fundamental to a healthy society.

The Commission's role is:

- To lead through advocacy, policy development and planning.
- To seek funding for and make grants to arts organizations and artists.
- To build coalitions and encourage collaborations among the public and private sectors, arts and culture organizations, and artists.
- To ensure the arts touch the lives of all Oregonians.

Goals To ensure that:

- Oregonians have wide access to the arts.
- Oregon arts organizations across the State have the skills and resources to offer high quality programs.
- Public and private support for arts and culture is increased and leveraged.
- Oregonians have access to quality arts learning opportunities.
- Oregon artists are supported in creating work of acknowledged high quality.

Purpose of the Arts Build Communities Grants

Arts Build Communities grants support the arts in local communities and the involvement of the arts and artists in community development. The grants recognize the expanding role that arts organizations play in the broader, cultural, social, educational and economic areas of community life. Support is provided to arts and other community-based organizations to form alliances and partnerships to strengthen communities through projects that connect the arts with local issues and opportunities.

Projects from communities that are underserved by arts services will receive priority for funding. Underserved communities include communities whose opportunities to experience the arts are limited by geography, ethnicity, economics, or disability. Successful community arts projects connect with broader community development issues and goals. The most competitive Arts Build Communities grant projects illustrate the connection between artists, local arts resources, and community development.

Solid arts and community development projects reflect local partnerships, local impact, and careful project planning. While projects may access resources outside the community, this program's emphasis is on building local capacity to strengthen the arts in a community. The ABC Grant program is broader than an arts project grant program. It is committed to fostering partnerships and strengthening the arts in communities across the state.

Projects must support the integration of the arts and artists with community goals and may include new initiatives, new program development, or the expansion of an existing arts and community development project.

This program will not support the construction, purchase, or renovation of facilities. However, pre-development, design fees and community planning activities are eligible for support.

Examples of Recent Successful Arts Build Communities Projects:

- The Corvallis Arts Center developed Art in Rural Storefronts, a series of contemporary art installations in vacant commercial spaces in the Mid-Willamette Valley. This project connected artists with local businesses and rural advocacy organizations to bring innovative, thought-provoking art projects to areas that lack spaces dedicated to contemporary/non-commercial art.
- My Story's Family Portrait Day, brought hands-on photography experiences to Somali and Slavic youth living in the Lincoln Woods Apartments in outer-Southeast Portland. The project included an 8-session photography workshop. Additionally, 20 youth participants hosted "We are Portland," a community portrait shoot, where the young photographers took formal portraits of their families, friends and neighbors. The project resulted in a retrospective exhibit at Lincoln Woods showcasing work produced over five years, including the portraits from "We are Portland."
- Teatro Milagro, the touring arm of Miracle Theater Group, brought bilingual arts workshops and residencies to Corvallis High School and Oregon State University and a public performance to the Majestic Theatre in downtown Corvallis. The project created a community-based Latino arts experience with a focus on anti-bullying that also built alliances between cultural organizations and institutions. Miracle Theater's UNIDAD curriculum used bi-racial/bilingual literacy workshops to foster open dialogue, build community awareness and ultimately build a new generation of involved leaders.
- Friends of Klamath County Library worked with community partners to present Breaking the Silence: The Power of Voice, a visual arts project interpreting Japanese American experiences at the Tule Lake Segregation Center. The project was a partnership of the Klamath County Friends of the Library, Mazama High School, Ponderosa Junior High School, and the National Park Service's Japanese American Confinement Site.
- Crows Shadow Institute developed a series of programs focused on traditional horse regalia in partnership with the Fort Walla Walla Museum. Close to 40 people participated in a series of workshops taught by highly experienced instructors, with finished works exhibited and used in a major ceremonial horse parade.
- The Jordan Schnitzer Museum of Art at the University of Oregon strengthened relationships with Lane County's growing Latin American, Asian, and Asian-American communities by translating its marketing and educational material and portions of its website into Spanish, Japanese, Korean, and Mandarin Chinese to increase awareness of its collections and offer programs to new audiences.

- The Friends of Latimer Quilt & Textile Center created the “Tillamook County Quilt Trail: Preserving and Promoting our Rural Heritage” project which placed quilt images on the sides of farm structures. The buildings functioned as “canvases” to promote the area’s quilting and agrarian heritage.

Grant Awards

Arts Build Communities grants will generally range from $3,000 to $ 7,000. The Arts Commission has limited resources, and not all eligible applicants will receive funding. Priority will be given to projects that have not previously received funding from the Arts Commission.

Matching Requirements

Arts Build Communities grants must be matched at least dollar-for-dollar with earned, contributed or in-kind support. The most competitive projects demonstrate some cash match committed by other funders.

Deadline

Completed applications must be submitted through the online grant system no later than 5:00 pm October 1, 2013. Applications received after the deadline will not be considered. Please do not wait until the last minute to submit online applications. High traffic can slow on line processing time through the server and may jeopardize grant submission by the deadline.

Access Compliance

Any entity that provides services to the public must comply with the Americans with Disabilities Act. Arts organizations specifically must be familiar with section 504. The Arts Commission provides assistance to Oregon arts groups on issues of access. Contact David Huff, Assistant Director, david.huff@biz.state.or.us. TDD Assistance is available at (800) 735-2900.

Assistance

Assistance from the Arts Commission staff is available to applicants prior to the application deadline. Contact Brian Wagner, Community Arts Coordinator, (503) 986-0083 or brian.wagner@state.or.us with questions.

Application Review Process

Arts Commission staff reviews submitted applications for eligibility, completeness, and budget accuracy. A panel of arts professionals reviews each eligible application in an open meeting process.

Panel meetings are open to the public and all applicants will receive advance notice of the meeting time and place. The panels review and rate each application. Scores are provided to the full Commission, which will consider the panel ranking as well as the geographic and programmatic services provided when making its grant awards. Applicants are notified of the Commission's decision by mail following the Commission meeting.

Final Reports

The Arts Commission documents the impact of the arts in Oregon. Arts organizations receiving grants must complete a final narrative and budget report. Final financial reports must reflect the application budget as submitted or revised to the Arts Commission. Grant reports must be submitted within thirty (30) days of the completion of the grant period. All grantees are subject to periodic monitoring by the Oregon Arts Commission and must retain fiscal records for a period of three (3) years following completion of the grant period.

Organizations that have been previously funded by the Arts Commission must fulfill final reporting obligations before new grant funds will be distributed.
